Dr. Ashok Karamia Profile

Vice President - Agentic AI Strategy & Sales, WinWire Technologies

Dr. Ashok Karamia (“Ash”) is an entrepreneurial business and technology leader with over two decades of experience in shaping strategy, driving innovation, and building high-impact partnerships across global markets.

As a leader in Agentic AI, he helps enterprises reimagine their future through Artificial Intelligence initiatives, transforming ambition into measurable business impact.

Previously, Ash led growth and strategic initiatives at Infostretch (Apexon) — a Goldman Sachs-backed digital engineering firm, where he also founded Ignite, a flagship philanthropy initiative that has positively touched thousands of lives.

A TEDx speaker, startup mentor, and advisor to social enterprises, Ash is passionate about harnessing technology for human progress. He engages with leading think tanks, academia, and government bodies on purpose, technology, innovation and social impact.

Ash holds a PhD in Business Policy & Administration (University of Mumbai), an MBA from S. P. Jain, and completed the Oxford FinTech Programme at the University of Oxford’s Saïd Business School.

An explorer at heart, he finds joy in books, travel, cinema, music, and philosophy — weaving human curiosity with digital possibility.
